

MARINA PUGINA

Is an independent curator, art manager, and researcher of local art communities. She usually works with contemporary art archives, various forms of artistic self-runs, modes of temporal collectivity, and co-participation.

This is her fourth visit to Stockholm, the first was five years ago when she was involved in participating in the Supermarket Art Fair with one of our artist's self-run, then Pugina returned a year later for the EUNIC residency program for young curators at Tensta Konsthall with Maria Lind and it was quite a dive into the local art scene.

Prior to the current stay Marina Pugina was in Stockholm 2019. With other words she has been following the development on the art scene in Sweden for some years. Prior to arriving to BKN she was working on a research project in Germany.

"I'm very excited to be able to make new connections and contacts"
